Expose the watch to bright light to charge its battery before using it. If the digital display of the watch is blank. If the digital display of the watch is blank, it means that the watch's Power Saving function has turned it off to conserve power. Further details and technical information can be found in the "Reference" section. Current Time Setting This watch automatically adjusts its digital time setting in accordance with a time calibration signal. Because of this, the analog time setting is adjusted automatically whenever you change the digital setting. See "Analog Timekeeping" for more information. If it does not, it should adjust automatically after the next auto receive operation in the middle of the night. When auto receive is turned on and you are within the reception range, the watch will automatically receive the time calibration signal from the applicable transmitter in the middle of the night and update its settings accordingly. After that, press B and then perform step 1 again. After that, the Timekeeping Mode screen reappears. Time Calibration Signal Reception There are two different methods you can use to receive the time calibration signal auto receive and manual receive. The second hand stops at the 12 o'clock position while time calibration signal reception is in progress. For more information, see "To perform manual receive". 1 2 3. 7 Summary of content 7 pages Page 1 MO0506EA Operation Guide 3732 Getting Acquainted Congratulations upon your selection of this CASIO watch.
